DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 2, 4-6, 11, 12 and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Sattler.
3. Claims 1, 2, 11 and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Vassallo.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-29 and 53-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Field.

Field discloses the claimed invention except for the inner and intermediate layers attached to the inner surface of the outer layer, which reads on the recited "back wall", having a smaller surface area than the outer layer. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to reduce the surface area of the inner and intermediate layers of Field such that they are less than the surface area of the outer layer, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

In the alternative, Field discloses the claimed invention except for the outer and intermediate layers attached to the outer surface of the inner layer, which reads on the recited "back wall", having a smaller surface area than the inner layer. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to reduce the surface area of the outer and intermediate layers of Field such that they are less than the surface area of the inner layer, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Regarding claim 16, Field discloses the claimed invention, especially the inner and intermediate layers opposite the opening comprising a first layer, a second layer and a third metalized layer (AL/PET). See "TABLE I, SAMPLE D". However, it is unclear if the metalized layer attached to the first layer opposite the second layer. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to attach the metalized layer of Field to the first layer opposite the second layer, since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. In re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70.

Regarding claims 23 and 28, Field discloses the claimed invention, especially the second layer (inner layer 11) being low density polyethylene. However, Field does not disclose the thickness of the second layer being approximately 0.0005 inches. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the second layer of Field as approximately 0.0005 inches thick, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Regarding claim 54, the intermediate layer in the Field container meets applicant's recitation of "the patch is located between the inner and outer surface of the back wall.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-29 and 53-55 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
